Cycle Teas Pleasant Events of Today

Brightening a week socially that otherwise would have been very quiet are the cycle teas being given this week by the ladies to raise funds for the Children's Home Society of Florida, in Jacksonville. The informal affairs are giving great pleasure to the guests and today's hostesses included a number of Ocala's most charming entertainers.

Miss Edith Williams had as her guests from 3 to 5 o'clock. Misses Hester Dewey, Adele Bittinger, Hope Robinson, Virginia Sistrunk, Eugenia Fuller, Justine Rhody and Mrs. Arthur Gerrard. The young ladies took their fancy work but their time was divided with auction. Miss Williams served fruit salad, olives, wafers and tea.

Miss Alice Bullock had as her auction guests Misses Janet Weathers, Bettie McIver, Mary Burford, Annie Atkinson, Mrs. J. B. Horrell, Mrs. R. A. Burford Jr. and Mrs. John Taylor, who with the hostess formed two tables of players. A dainty sewing apron was the trophy for top score and following the games fruit salad, sandwiches, pickles and tea was served.

The neighbors of Mrs. W. K. Zawadzki are indebted to her for an enjoyable afternoon. Readings by Miss Mamie Gross, vocal selections by Miss Sara Gross and victrola music furnished delightful entertainment for the guests, who were Mrs. John Dozier, Mrs. J. C. Caldwell, Mrs. S. R. Whaley, Mrs. Sidney Haile, Mrs. H. C. Dozier, Mrs. J. H. Spencer, Mrs. J. M. Gross, Mrs. Walter Hood, Mrs. Richard McConathy and Misses Gross. A salad course with coffee was served.

Auction and rook were interesting diversions for the guests of Mrs. J. C. B. Koonce, who were Mrs. William Hocker, Mrs. Edward Holder, Mrs. R. S. Hall, Mrs. Jack Camp, Mrs. Clarence Camp, Mrs. R. L. Anderson and Mrs. R. A. Burford. When games were concluded the hostess served a salad course, parfait, angel food and coffee.

Mrs. T. T. Munroe had as her guests for the afternoon Mrs. N. Hickman, Mrs. L. R. Chazal, Mrs. G. K. Robinson, Mrs. E. J. Mills-Price, Misses Annie and Abbie Munroe, Mrs. Louis Wilson, Mrs. Albert Gerig and Mrs. M. G. Chambers. Several progressions of auction were played after which light refreshments were relished.

Auction and sewing proved a pleasant entertainment for the ladies who were guests of Mrs. Frank Drake, namely: Mrs. H. F. Watt, Mrs. W. W. Harris, Mrs. F. E. Harris, Mrs. Harvey Clark, Mrs. F. T. Schreiber, Mrs. Charles Rheinauer, Mrs. E. M. Osborne, Mrs. Edward Drake and Mrs. H. H. Harold. At 5 o'clock a tempting lunch of chicken salad, wafers, olives, pickles, sandwiches, tomato jelly, tea and sweet crackers was enjoyed.

Mrs. Howard Walters, Mrs. L. M. Jones, Mrs. Port Leavengood, Mrs. Henry Weimer, Misses Gertrude Peyser, Susie Lou Ellis and Ellen Clarkson and Mrs. Sam Leigh formed two tables of auction guests spending the afternoon with Mrs. Etta Robinson. Coffee and sandwiches were served.

The largest of the afternoon teas was given by Mrs. C. Carmichael, who entertained Mrs. D. E. McIver, Mrs. J. C. Smith, Mrs. C. H. Dame, Mrs. Mershon, Mrs. Wesley Cleveland, Mrs. J. T. Lancaster, Mrs. R. T. Weaver, Mrs. D. S. Welch, Mrs. J. D. Rooney, Mrs. W. M. Guber, Mrs. James Engesser, Mrs. C. F. Flippen, Mrs. B. D. Blackburn, Mrs. R. B. Bullock, Mrs. Weller Carmichael, Mrs. Elmer DeCamp, Mrs. P. W. Whiteside, Mrs. Vogt, Mrs. R. R. Carroll, Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Dallas Jeffcoat, Mrs. Whitfield, Mrs. G. A. Carmichael, Mrs. C. E. Winston, Misses Catharine Latchem, Mary Williamson, Dorothy Lancaster, Vic Rayson, Nellie Beckham, Dora Vogt, Josie Williams and little Virginia Carmichael. "A Music Mystery" was the title of a clever contest and to the correct guesser "today" was awarded. Mrs. Carmichael served her guests to a salad course with hot tea.

Mrs. W. T. Gary's guests included a dozen friends who formed a congenial audience listening to instrumental numbers by Miss Mamie Gross and vocal selections by Miss Cecile Downs. The afternoon with the hostess was concluded by the serving of an ice course, tea and wafers.

Miss Henrietta Livingston was hostess to a small tea yesterday afternoon, her guests including Misses Minnie Lee Carlisle, Catharine and Mary Harriet Livingston and Katie Mae Eagleton. Handkerchiefs for the Children's Home were made and later hot chocolate and sandwiches were served. The young hostess presented her guests with hand painted souvenirs.

Mrs. J. R. Dewey entertained her guests at cards and her invitation list included Mrs. Wallis, Mrs. D. M. Smith, Mrs. Lopez, Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Peter, Mrs. Hanewacker, Mrs. James Knight, Mrs. Heinz, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Hyneman. After the games Mrs. Dewey invited her guests to the dining room, where tea and sandwiches were served.

Mrs. Richard McConathy, who had expected to be one of the hostesses of today was unavoidably prevented from entertaining and like a number of other ladies, will contribute money.

A cycle tea yesterday giving pleasure to eight girls had Miss Elizabeth Bennett for its hostess. The crowd was composed of Mary Lane, Eva Lee Glass, Elizabeth Hocker, Jessie DeHon, Catharine Henry, Ruth Howell, Annie Rooney and Rhoda Thomas and the hostess took her guests to the Temple and then to the drugstore for cream.

At 11 o'clock today in Lakeland Miss Mabel Drane was united in marriage to Mr. W. S. Moore at All Saints Episcopal church, the wedding being one of the most beautiful ever witnessed in that city. The bride was an admired visitor to Ocala two years ago and in the wedding party were five former Ocalans, Messrs. I. V. Stevens, J. S. Jewett and O. M. Eaton, who were ushers, Mrs. Eaton presided at the piano and little Miss Nan Jewett was one of the two dainty flower girls. Mr. and Mrs. Moore sailed from Port Tampa this afternoon for Cuba to spend their honeymoon.

Friends of Misses Alma, Mary and Louise DeCottes of Jacksonville will regret to learn that their seashore home was one of the residences at Pablo Beach completely destroyed by fire Sunday night. Misses DeCottes visit in Ocala and they have had as their guests at Pablo a number of Ocalans.

Miss Melvina Burtis, who has been visiting in Ocala and at Blitchton for the past ten days, was called to her home in Tampa yesterday by the death of an aunt. Miss Burtis is one of the most attractive young ladies who frequently visits Ocala and her friends will learn with sorrow of her bereavement. Miss Burtis will return for the Marion County Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Briganey came down from Micanopy yesterday on a short business visit.

Dr. C. W. Morman will return tomorrow or Thursday from a business trip to his former home at Bartow.

Master A. T. Thomas Jr., is ill at the home of his parents on Lake Weir avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Badger and Mr. Alfie Brooks of Oldtown, were shopping and transacting business in the city today.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boisseau are now making their home in Miss Rena Smith's house, corner Watula street and East Broadway.

Mr. Walter S. C. Yonge is in the city from Jacksonville, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Yonge.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Packham have returned from their summer vacation in New Jersey, and are again in their cozy home on South Wenona street.

Dr. S. H. Blitch and family from Blitchton were in town today.

As guests of Mrs. Herbert Lattner the members of the Tuesday auction club spent this afternoon delightfully enjoying their weekly play. There were two tables of members composed of Mrs. R. N. Dosh, Mrs. V. V. Newsom Jr., Misses Nellie Gottlieb, Rosebud Robinson, Mary McDowell, Helen Brown, Dorothy Schreiber and Kathleen Jackson. A pretty embroidered tray cloth was awarded for top score and at the conclusion of the games friend oysters, hot rolls, cheese chips, dill pickles and coffee were served. Mrs. N. I. Gottlieb and Miss Frances Tarver joined the players late.

Miss Musie Bullock returned yesterday from a week-end visit to Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Powitzky at Fruitland Park, going down especially to attend a Halloween party given by Mr. and Mrs. Powitzky Saturday night.

The woman's auxiliary of Grace church held its monthly business meeting at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the rectory.

Unintentionally the name of Mrs. R. L. Anderson, second vice president, was omitted from the list of officers receiving Saturday at the Woman's Club reception.

Capt. and Mrs. R. A. Alfred were in the city yesterday en route to Port Inglis from a visit to their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hendricks at Salamanca, N. Y. Mrs. Alfred has been with Mrs. Hendricks since spring and Mr. Alfred went east several weeks ago to accompany his wife home.

An Episode of Cuba

By ESTHER VANDEVEER

During that period in Cuba when the people were under the heel of Captain General Weyler two young men, Jose Herrera and Manuel Furtado, one the son of a sugar planter, the other a lawyer who hunted up cases of flaw of title, then levied blackmail on the holder of the property, came into collision.

Senorita Inez Madera, the daughter of a Spanish grandee who had emigrated from Spain many years before, was one of those southern beauties whose dark eyes, over which sweep long lashes, render them entrancing. She and Herrera met at a ball given by a wealthy planter, and the meeting resulted in a love affair. At the time Senor Madera, who had sunk a fortune in Spain before coming to Cuba and had always since been impecunious, had been approached by Manuel Furtado for the hand of Senorita Inez. The grandee was at first disposed to regard the application as an insult, but when Furtado announced that he had accumulated a considerable fortune and would supply the old man's wants the latter turned a listening ear.

The entrance of Herrera into the play made a great difference to Furtado. What might probably have resulted without his interference was now impossible. But he did not realize this. He had been introduced to Senorita Inez by her father, and she had received him graciously. Then came to the lawyer a temptation to put his rival out of the way. Those were times when persons in Cuba were very easily put out of the way. The captain general was an autocrat whose order would send any man to prison or before a firing squad.

Furtado lodged information at the palace that Jose Herrera was not only a revolutionist, but that he was plotting to bring United States troops into the island to expel the Spaniards. One evening when Herrera was expected to call on Senorita Madera he did not arrive. On the way to her home he was waylaid by order of the governor and carried to prison. No one knew of his arrest. Furtado had reported that if it were known that he was a captive it would exasperate his friends, and they were sufficiently numerous to make trouble. So his arrest was kept secret.

Soon after this came the Spanish American war and the landing of United States troops in Cuba. Herrera lay in prison till the war ended, then came forth, not having been heard from nor having communicated with any one outside his jail during the hostilities. He learned that Senorita Madera, supposing him to be dead, was in mourning for him. He knew that some one had procured his arrest and confinement, but did not know who that person was. Before making himself known to any one he instituted inquiries as to his accuser, and since the records were now open to him he soon learned that he had been betrayed by Manuel Furtado.

Jose determined to punish his traitor before making himself known to the girl he loved. Either he or Manuel must die, and if it were Jose it was better that he should not come to life to be mourned a second time. He was weak from confinement and gave himself a brief respite before tackling his enemy, who had turned in favor of the revolutionists just in time to be on the winning side and, having given a considerable sum to the cause, was in favor with the people and the American provisional management.

Furtado was an occasional visitor at the home of Senor Madera. Senorita Inez did not like him; but, being ignorant of the treachery he had brought upon her lover, to please her father she treated him civilly. Herrera, learning of these visits, lay in wait for his enemy.

One night Furtado was stopped by one who blocked his way. There was no light except that of a half moon, and Furtado did not recognize the man he had injured.

"You don't remember me," said Herrera.

"I do not."

"I am Jose Herrera, whom you informed against falsely and whose arrest on this very spot you instigated—an appropriate spot for the settlement of the account between us."

"Are you going to murder me?"

"No. Are you unarmed?"

"I have not so much as a penknife."

"Take that," Jose handed him a cavalry saber. "I have its duplicate."

"I prefer to meet you with pistols to see fair play," replied Furtado, "and I prefer pistols. I know nothing of the use of a saber."

"Nor I. But, as to fair play, you are not a giver of fair play and consequently not entitled to it yourself. As to sabers, they make less noise than pistols, and the survivor will have a better chance to get away unnoticed. On guard!"

Senorita Madera was sitting in a dimly lighted garden beside her home when the gate opened and Herrera entered.

"Jose!" she exclaimed. "Are you of the quick or the dead?"

"I am of the quick; I have just left the dead."

The next morning Herrera gave himself up as the slayer of Furtado, but he had only to make known the treatment he had received of his enemy to enlist sympathy. He was never brought to trial, not even arrested.

He married Senorita Madera and subsequently became prominent as a Cuban legislator.

Better Cake and Biscuits

In all receipts calling for baking powder, use Royal Baking Powder. Better and finer food will be the result, and you will safeguard it against a possible dangerous compound.

Look out for adulterated baking powders. Do not permit them to come into your house under any consideration. They may add an injurious substance to your food, destroying in part its digestibility. Doctors will tell you this and it is unquestionable.

Housewives are sometimes led to use inferior baking powders because of deceptive foaming or boiling tests or apparent lower cost, but there is very little difference in practical use, about one cent for a whole cake or pan of biscuits—a mere trifle when you consider the vast difference in healthfulness in favor of food made with Royal Baking Powder.

Blasting Ground For Tree Planting

Much has been written on how to plant a tree or trees, but if the experience of scores of famous orchardists have any weight on the topic, then the practice of using dynamite preliminary to planting young trees has fully proved its merits.

The writer has personally seen specific examples of the value and excellence of tree planting with dynamite on a private orchard in Delaware, the Blasting for tree planting is best done in the fall, because at this time of the year it is easier to catch the subsoil in dry condition. Blasting in the spring for spring planting, however, is much better than planting in dug holes, notwithstanding the fact that the subsoil is apt to be wet or damp.

If the holes are blasted in advance of the time of setting the trees they are left without further attention until difference in growth between the undynamited tree and the tree planted in blasted ground being so unmistakably in favor of the latter that, no adequate comparison could be made.

Furthermore, there are so many sane and logical reasons for this method of tree planting that even the most skeptical could not fail to be convinced. Obviously when a tree has to use a large part of its energies in forcing its roots through the hard soil it cannot be expected to make the same rapid growth and come into such tree planting time, unless it is desirable to add some manure or fertilizer to be diffused through the soil. This is an excellent practice, especially in poor soil. If the earth is sour, sticky clay a few pounds of lime scattered in the hole will materially assist in permeating the clay and keeping it permanently granulated and sweet.

Immediately after the blast the soft blasted ground should be dug out down to the location of the charge, where a hole will usually be found about the size of a bushel basket. This early bearing as a tree would that had the ground in which it was planted thoroughly prepared by dynamiting beforehand.

No tree should be planted over hardpan or impacted subsoil without first resorting to blasting, so that the soil may be made open and porous. Such blasting not only creates channels, increases absorption of soil moisture and permits deeper rooting, but it also induces better growth and larger yields.

must be filled to prevent settling of the tree after planting. The roots should be placed in a natural position in good top soil, covered with more top soil and trenched down firm. The hole can then be filled to a little above the surface with subsoil.

The fact that nearly all commercial orchardists use this method proves that it pays in reduced first year loss, earlier fruiting and larger and better yields.
